WHAT A LONG STRANGE TRIP IT'S BEEN...

Exitus '97

Sutton Memorial Jr. Sr. High School
Boston Rd.
Sutton, Massachusetts 01590
Volume 59

What a long strange trip it's been for us! But is it really over? A more appropriate theme to "What a Long Strange Trip It's Been" might be "What a Long Strange Trip It Will Be." High school has brought around many changes for us, both physically and mentally. We are not the same people we were four years ago. Most of us (although some may not admit it) have become responsible and mature young adults. We have also seen many changes within the Sutton School System. In four years alone we have had three principals, a new superintendent, block scheduling, and a whole new academic curriculum. We are a memorable senior class since we are the first to have Homecoming, honors courses, and, in a long time, an outside graduation.

But this year is not the end of our long journey. Many of us are looking forward to going on to college next year, while others are looking forward to joining the military or work force. We will have even more experiences to remember. Hopefully, we will all come back to our first reunion as successful, happy adults with a lot of memories to share. And it is then that we can say, "What a Long Strange Trip it's Been."

Let's Eat

Outside lunch? For years students have asked to eat their lunch outside and finally someone has listened. Mr. Klaiman made it a rule that as long as nobody caused trouble, students could eat anywhere on the school grounds. Picnic tables were even made for students' convenience.

Kristin Hamm thinks Biology is something to smile about.

Joelle Montecalvo takes a break from the school day and relaxes on the auditorium floor.

Adam Kurowski fixes Lisa Alger's hair as she begins to laugh.

Bethany Carter and Christine Montecalvo take interest in the Blackstone River Valley exhibit, which was displayed in the Cafeteria.

Alicia Eisnor doesn't look too happy to be in Government class.

Class of 1997

The class of 1997 is the class that nobody wanted. Our first advisor was Mrs. Ackerman. That year we sold suntan lotion and nobody paid class dues. Then, because of certain circumstances, she could not be our advisor. For a while we were "advisor-less". That was when Mr. Delongchamp stepped in. Since then, we have fundraised a lot more and everyone's class dues are paid up. It is sometimes difficult to reach him because he is in the Junior High side of the school but we somehow stay in communication. Also, Ms. Faulkner became our assistant advisor. She has also helped us a lot with our activities.

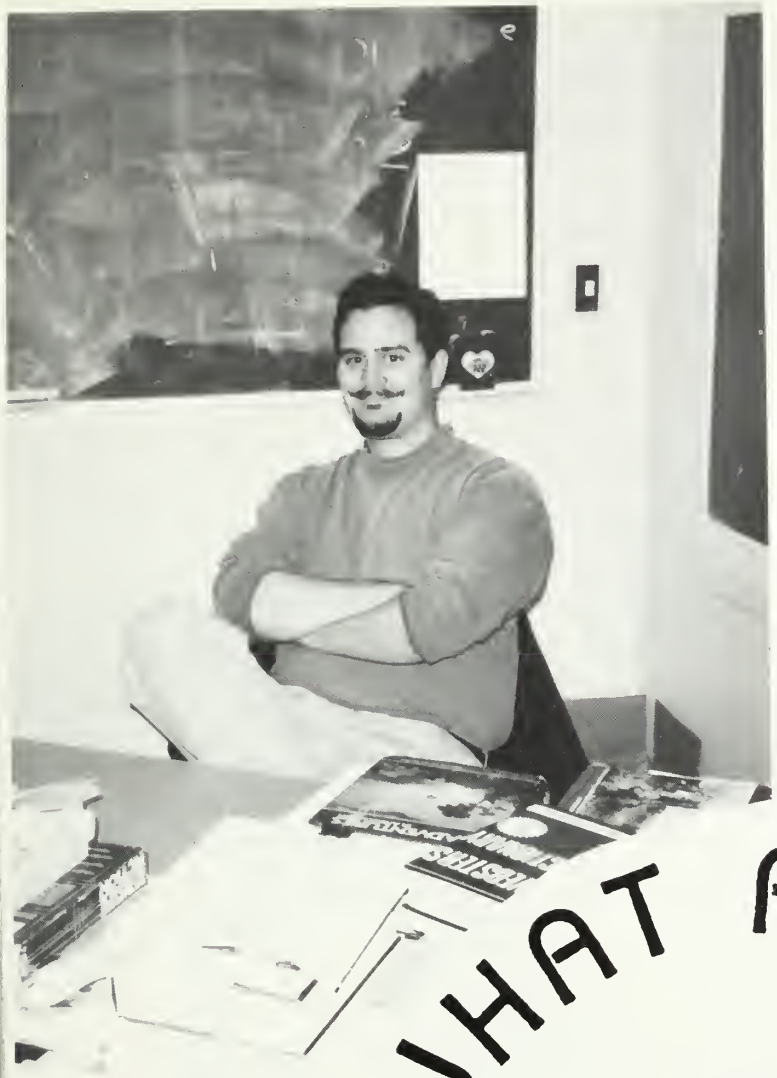
In Loving Memory

This year the Sutton School System lost a special and talented person when Dennis Bellville, class of '93, passed away after a car accident. He was an excellent basketball player and well liked by everyone who knew him. In addition to playing basketball, Dennis was also vice-president of the National Honor Society and a member of the Student Council.

In memory of his death, a scholarship fund has been started for graduating seniors and the Varsity/Alumni basketball game has been named in his honor. He was a wonderful person and will be terribly missed by all.



This year's faculty has taken on many changes. With the retirement of Mr. O'Dea and Mr. Brosnihan, two new teachers had to be hired. Mrs. Davidson (formally Miss O'Connor) came back to Sutton to take Mr. O'Dea's place as the Junior class English teacher. Mr Rabinowitcz was hireds to take Mr. Brosnihan's place as the U.S. History teacher. Along with them, a new Senior English teacher, Mr. Powers, and a new nurse, Mrs. Zimmage, joined the crew. With the addition of more classes the workload for some teachers has increased and most of them are feeling the pressure from Mr. Klaiman. Without the teachers and staff, though, where would we be.

Dedication

This year the Senior class chose to dedicate the yearbook to Mr. Hendrickson. He has helped tremendously with the preparations of the class trip to Disney World. He spends much of his free time on being Athletic Director, coaching the boys' baseball team, and being the sophomore class advisor. Also, last year, he took over the job of guidance counselor when Mr. Perron took a leave of absence. Besides, what would Government be like without the witty comments and stories by "H".

Guidance

Before the arrival of Mr. Lew Klaiman, some people were calling Sutton High School the "Sutton Country Club." Students came in late and left early almost everyday. Without a permanent principal, discipline was becoming a problem. But after an extensive search, a new principal was found. Teachers and students soon discovered that Mr. Klaiman had strict rules about tardiness and misbehavior. However, he also started many new traditions at Sutton High, such as Homecoming and Midnight Madness. He tries to listen to what students have to say and it is often that you hear him say "Not A Problem."

Mr. Klaiman came to us from South Kingston High School in Rhode Island, where he was also a principal. He has stated that he would like to be Sutton's principal for the next ten years. Thanks to Mr. Klaiman, Sutton High has changed for the better. There is more school spirit (especially since he started giving out candy to those people who wear green on Fridays), more after-school activities, and more discipline. Mr. Klaiman gives back to the students the same respect that he receives.

When considered as individuals, the underclassmen are sometimes referred to as "young and naive." However, the underclassmen play a very important role in the high school. They serve as a role model to the junior high, as well as being a source of support and encouragement to the Seniors. A large number of underclassmen have also participated in varsity sports, music, art, and technology this year.

Overall, the underclassmen make a valuable contribution and are an asset to the school, making it all the more interesting!

Academics has become a big importance to Sutton High, so this year the Yearbook staff has decided to include an academic section. Over the years, academics have taken on a number of changes. With the passing of the School Reform Act in 1993, Sutton High has switched to block scheduling, allowing for more time in the classroom. Also, starting in the next few years eighth, tenth, and twelfth grades have to take an exam to graduate from high school. This year Sutton High added honors classes to its list of growing courses. There was also a controversy over whether or not high school seniors had to take the GED to graduate. As the years pass, academics will take an even more important role in the lives of Sutton High students.

The Clubs at Sutton High School are perhaps one of the most interesting factors of our school outside of sports and academics. There are more than enough clubs at Sutton High to satisfy the curiosity and drive to explore in any student, with activities covering almost all of the disciplines one might expect to see in a school setting.

Club activities take place at all times of the day, including weekends. Devoted club members put a great deal of effort into making these clubs a classy addition to Sutton High School.

Clubs

Pep Band

This year the Sutton High Pep Band had two prominant firsts in its history, Sutton's first band appearance in a play-off MIAA District Basketball game at WPI and an appearance on the evening news. The band played well throughout the season, with a varied personnel of new members as well as long-experienced ones.

Among other season highlights is the annual Dennis Bellville Alumni Basketball Game in which many of the Pep Band alumni came to sit in and pay a brief but sentimental visit to their Pep Band past. A big thank you goes, as always, to the ever-dedicated Mr. Smith.

Jazz Band

Since its start in 1994, the Sutton High School Jazz Band, under the direction of Mr. Mark Smith, has been a hit with students, faculty and community alike.

The Jazz Band has performed at the annual Spaghetti Supper, hosted by the High School Music Department; the Winter and Spring Concerts, and this year's Millbury-Sutton Collaborative Concert.

While most people will agree that all of the ensembles within the High School Music Department are very enjoyable, the Jazz Band certainly strikes a special chord.

The Induction Ceremony is an exciting time for students and parents. Best of luck to all of the new National Honor Society members!

The National Honor Society had a very busy year with fund raising and community service.

Our advisor, Mrs. Tura Dudley, organized a Junior High Dance in March to raise money for the Induction Ceremony in the spring.

During April vacation, a few members were "women at work" as they painted roadside pilings and fences for the Sutton Highway Department.

Spirit Week was also a huge success this year with days like "Dress Like You're Going to a Club Day" and "80's Day." Everyone seemed to have a great time at the Mini-Olympics, as always.

Members also helped out at the first annual Spring Extravaganza, helping Mrs. Ettamarna with the plant sale along with selling cookies and refreshments. All in all, it was a successful and fun year for the NHS.

The Web Club, more commonly known as "GURU," formed when Mr. Whittier approached Jon Oosterman and asked him to create Sutton High School's first web page. Mr. Whittier then recruited Keith Survell, Betsy Perry, David Moulton and Jennifer Curtis. Together, these people donated long hours, often staying very late to complete what needed to be done.

After a few months, the devoted members of the staff got together and put in a 12-hour night's work on the page, reconstructing it totally from scratch.

Yearbook

This year's yearbook staff was a bit different from previous yearbook staffs. It began with four editors and a large number of personnel. However, due to the number of members involved with sports and other activities, the 1997 yearbook staff quickly reduced itself to only a few devoted members.

While members of the junior and sophomore classes were asked to help in constructing the yearbook, the staff was still unable to meet all of the deadlines.

A sincere and well-deserved thank you should be awarded to those who so generously contributed the time and effort necessary to produce this year's yearbook.

Literary Magazine

This has been a hectic, yet refreshingly creative year for the "Broken Mirror" staff. An influx of submissions, creativity and Mrs. Davidson's advising has breathed new life into the magazine.

Also, Mrs. Davidson's guidance and support has brought the magazine to a new level of operation and to an annual writing conference. A special thank you deservedly goes to all the members of the staff for sticking with it and even just for showing up at the meetings!!

Sutton

The old farmer sits quietly in his old, quaint, colonial home. Alone he sits, pondering the past of his traditional ways. The seasons change, along with the past and its ways. The old farmer remembers the days when people used to say, "Home of the free." Lonely, he sits like the vast land waiting for the growth of cities to come and destroy his patriotic traditions. Could it be that this old, boring, gossipy farmer is being erased from existence, to make way for new days?

Sports has always been a driving force at Sutton High. It has allowed for the students and faculty to come together and feel the spirit that has made the sports program a continuing success throughout the years. Loyal fans supported their teams through wins and losses. Whether it was a night game at Shepherd Hill, where both the players and the fans braved icy winds and cold temperatures or a double game, where the fans packed into the stands to cheer the teams onto another victory, sports in Sutton have always been supported by the fans and the by players.

Teamwork

The girls varsity soccer team started the year out with only five returning starters. This year's team was made up of many of last year's junior varsity players and returning players from last year's varsity team. The team found that it was important to learn to play together. Under the leadership of the captains and their coach, the girls developed into a group that would support their teammates through any kind of game. The girls ended the season with thirteen wins, seven losses and one tie, a record good enough to get them to the Dual Valley Championship game, playing against Grafton.

The 1997 Sutton Softball Team ended their season with a 2-14 record. Their wins were earned against Saint Mary's and Hopedale, while strong performances were displayed against Millbury and North Brookfield. A frustrating season was endured by this young team, composed primarily of junior high players and underclassmen. As their talent matures, the Sutton Softball Team expects a new image.

Cross Country

The 1997 season was a good season for the Sutton Cross Country team. This year the team got a new coach, Mr. Powers, and many new junior high runners. The boy's team finished with a 1-7 record whilethe girl's team finished with a 5-3 record. Both teams came in fourth at the Dual Valley Conference meet at BMR. At the district race in Gardner, the team had fun running through deep puddles and sliding down muddy hills.

The Varsity Cheerleaders, led by captains Lindsey Briggs, Melissa Philbrook, Jadey Kerswell and Alysha Palumbo, received first place at the Bartlett Cheerleading Tournament as well as the Good Sportsmanship Award. Kerri Ann Kudla was selected as the most outstanding cheerleader. The cheerleaders started many new programs such as "Big Sisters - Little Sisters" and the Good Sportsmanship Program. Girls Varsity Basketball

The girls' varsity basketball team finished their season 11-10. The team won their first district game against Keefe Tech and then played the eventual winner of the districts, Narragansett H.S. and lost. The team came in second in the Dual Valley behind B.M.R. and Whitin Christian, who tied for first. Melissa Roy and Kelly Shepherd captained the team and also led the team in scoring and rebound. Also leading the team were Sarah Osterman and Joan Yablonicky. Sarah played great defense and Joan's passing was tremendous. The team had many close games which made for an exciting season. The team also took third place in the Sutton High Invitational Tournament.

Boys Varsity Basketball

Sutton's boys varsity basketball team had a season of ups and downs, starting with the arrival of Jaime Brown from Northbridge. Hopes were high for the Sammies to go all the way this year. At the start they beat Division II rival St. Peter Marian and the Division I team Holy Name. Also, Senior center Adam Petkus scored his one thousandth career point in a loss to Dorehty High. The Sammies were surprised in getting bumped out in the first round of the Clark Tournament by the Maynard Tigers, only to come back in Districts more hungry than ever. They demolished the Tigers, West Boylston, only to be stopped short of their third consecutive State Semi-final game by a last Nipmuc basket to end their season at 16 and 5.

Student life at Sutton High has taken on new meaning. The addition of Homecoming, Midnight Madness, and more pep rallies have made this school year more exciting than ever. Midnight Madness was a huge success, with over two hundred students in attendence. Homecoming was also a big hit. The Seniors have had a busy time preparing for their trip to Disney World. Dances, spaghetti suppers, movies, and candy sales consume a lot of Seniors' time. The talent show was also a lot of fun, with many types of acts presented. Let's hope that future years will be able to enjoy these same events.

WHAT A LONG STRANGE TRIP IT'S BEEN...

Student Life

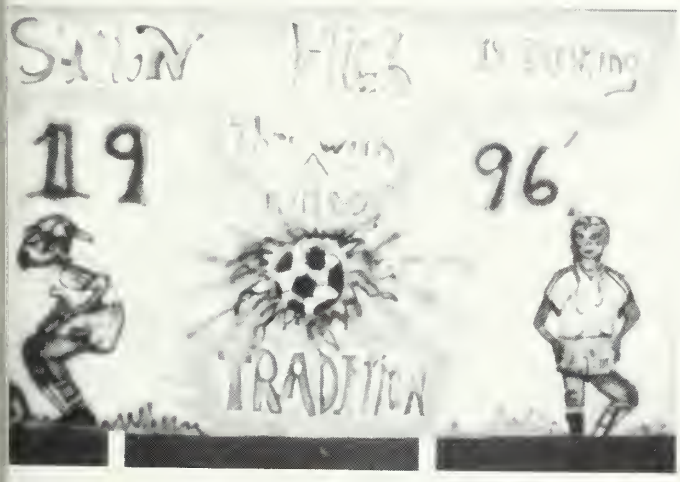
This year, Sutton had its first annual Homecoming. There was a variety of activities for the whole town to enjoy. Throughout the week there was a competition going on between grades 9 through 12. The first competition was the banner contest, with the Freshman class taking first, followed closely by the Juniors. Then there was the charity event with the Sophomores, which raised over $600 through a walk-a-thon. Their donation was given to feed the hungry at the Mustard Seed in Worcester. On Friday afternoon, a skit competition was held with the Seniors grabbing first place and then going on to have the highest overall score. Friday night brought fun for the junior and senior high schools, as dances were going on in both ends of the building.

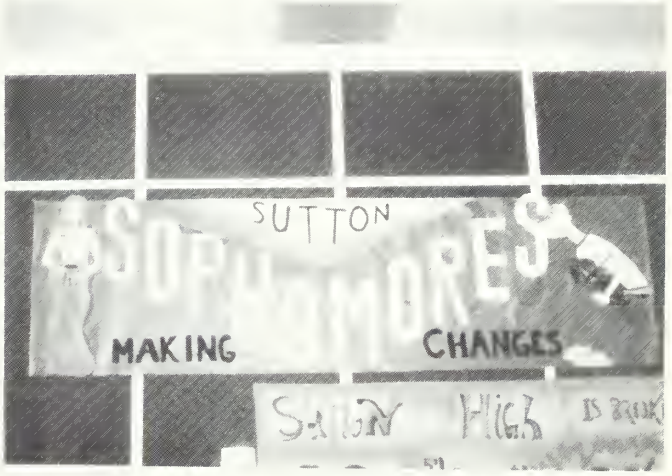
Saturday brought a hard fought soccer game between the Suzies and Newton North. The final score ended up being 4-1, in favor of Newton North. The boys' game was a tough physical game played against the rivals at Nipmuc. The boys came out on top with a 2-0 win. The band played a concert outside for the fans between games, even with the rough winds. Alumni band members came back to enjoy the first annual Homecoming as well as to participate in the band.

On Saturday night, the theater arts club performed "A Midsummer's Night Madness." The cast put on a great show that the whole audience appreciated.

Freshmen took first place in the banner contest.

Seniors came in third place with a funny yet serious banner.





Juniors came right behind and took second place.

Sophomores placed fourth with their Sammie and Suzie banner.

Another part of Homecoming was the skit competition. The Senior skit won first place in the competition. Here, Kevin O'Leary and Adam Petkus , act out a scene from Saturday Night Live depicting school spirit.

Mr. Smith keeps a watchful eye over Homecoming events.*

Senior girls get down at Homecoming.

Keith Survell is having a blast at Homecoming.

Alumni Mike Fields and student Adam Kurowski talk about old times at Sutton High.

Jocelin Johnson, Tony Scrico and Kevin Scanlon chat between fast dances.

Jon Hebert and Amanda Bohanan reat after getting off the dance floor.

Kristina Raymand and Joey Sampson are having a great time at Homecoming.

The school band plays during the break between the Girls' Varsity soccer game and the Boys' Varsity soccer game. It is just another part of the new tradition of Homecoming.

To raise money for their trip to Hershey , Pennsylvania, the chorus has an Apple Pie Sale during the Homecoming celebrations.

Jesse Osterman and Mark Hare do their impression of Guns and Roses at the Homcoming skit competition.

Chad Jernberg, standing out in the hallway, refuses to go to class! But no worry. Our new hall monitor is sure to fix that.*

This year is definitely "Starting A New Tradition". This is the first time in Sutton's history that Homecoming has become a part of the annual activities. This is all thanks to Mr. Klaiman.

Kelly Shepherd and Jessica Palmer piggy-back through French class, a needed break from grammar and translations.*

Seniors bond as they work on their Homecoming banner. As a celebration of school spirit all high school classes made banners to express their thoughts about Sutton High.

Rebecca Camarra smiles as she works in the office. Doing errands for teachers is a tough job, especially office runs.

Heather Bohanan understands what it is like to be pumped up for learning.

Amanda Bohanan and John Hebert enjoy being close to each other. It is common to see them together, both outside of school and in.

Lisa Alger and James Brown exchange a few quick words between class. There is certainly a lot to talk about in the halls of Sutton High.

Midnight Madness

Like many events this year, Midnight Madness was a first for Sutton High School. Midnight Madness is open to qualifying students (those who utilize proper behavior and maintain acceptable grades).

Midnight Madness gives students the opportunity to spend an entire night in the school, participating in a large number of activities throughout the night. Such activities include a basketball game to begin the night, a comedian, a hypnotist, networked computer games, pep rallies and more.

Everyone is looking forward to next year's Midnight Madness, as it is an exciting event for student and chaperone!

Jenny Boutiette, like many students, crashes afte a long night of Midnight Madness.

Kevin, Joelle, Roe, Sarah, Jadie and Amanda do the Macarena.
